

A message from Dr. Neal Benjamin

To our patients and friends,

Sometimes the unpredictable happens, and we have to deal with the results. Last September I fell and tore the muscles in my shoulder. Because I love what I do, I had no intentions of giving up my patients and their goals, my staff and my career.

Unfortunately, after consulting with two orthopedic physicians and rehabilitating my shoulder, the pain level increased. It's now difficult to perform the intricate movements required in dentistry.

With a transition apparent, Dr. Husu and I needed to find a dentist to replace me – someone who had the same skills, goals and values. Equally important was finding a dentist with dental proficiency equal to mine, the desire for continuing education -- and a sense of humor to blend with that of our dental team.

Dr. Husu and I, along with a skilled transition expert, found the perfect fit in Dr. John Stentz. Although taller than I am, thinner than I am, and with a full head of hair, Dr. Stentz shares our commitment to quality dentistry.

He's been acquainting himself with our team, and they agreed Dr. Stentz is a perfect fit. We're convinced you'll like him as much as we do.

Dentistry has never been a job to me; rather, it's been the joy of my life. By choice, I've made you the center of my life, and I have made our time together part of that journey. When you meet Dr. Stentz, I'm confident you'll find he possesses that same concern for you. He's looking forward to meeting you and plans to continue the optimum dental care you've been accustomed to at Circle Pines Dental. Please join all of us in welcoming Dr. John Stentz.

Dr. Neal Benjamin